

College Information Websites

- Fast Web: <http://collegelink.com> – Download applications to more than 800 colleges and return them via e-mail.
 - Peterson's Education Center: <http://www.petersons.com> – Peterson's publications offer some of the most comprehensive information available to students about all aspects of preparation for higher education.
 - The Princeton Review: <http://www.review.com> – This site provides general information on college admission and financial aid.
 - www.transfer.org – Course Applicability System (CAS). Provides information on how specific coursework will transfer and apply towards a degree at another university.
 - GoCollege - www.gocollege.com - Search for colleges, take virtual tours of colleges, take online practice tests for ACT and SAT.
 - College Net – www.collegenet.com Launched in 1995, lets applicants complete, file and pay for their admissions applications entirely through the internet.
 - SuperCollege.com – www.supercollege.com – This free website is all about helping students get into and pay for the college of their dreams. There are free resources and great tips and strategies.
 - ACT: www.act.org
 - The College Board: www.collegeboard.org
- College is Possible: www.collegeispossible.org Preparing for, selecting and paying for college.

Scholarships/Financial Aid Websites

- FAFSA: www.fafsa.ed.gov/ File your federal aid form electronically. Apply also for a pin at U.S. Department of Education's PIN site, www.pin.ed.gov, by selecting Apply for a PIN.
- www.fastweb.com Apply for scholarships by completing a profile to see all of the scholarships that are best for you!
- www.college-scholarships.com Offers free college scholarship searches and information on financial aid. Also provides tips on taking the ACT and SAT.
- Sallie Mae Cash for You – www.salliemae.com - The nation's leading provider for college loans.
- FinAid - www.finaid.org – A student guide to financial aid, information on scholarships as well as a comparison of loans available.
- Hispanic Scholarship Fund – www.hsf.net – features scholarship programs specifically for Hispanic high school seniors who plan to attend either a two-year or four-year institution.